

TIGRA SPORT

BIKE CONSOLE IPHONE HOLDER

Yes, having your phone out of your pocket and strapped to the handlebars can be a really good thing. Not only can you use it for a GPS, but if you have a Bluetooth headset you can get turn-by-turn directions or answer your better half's calls when they want to know where you are. This waterproof and lockable handlebar phone mount from Tigra has all the bells and whistles of the other all-in-one phone cases for your bike and is a pretty good deal for the price. The main thing I really like about the Bike Console is that the phone is securely held in the case with two beefy double-hinged latches, and the smooth touch front of the case makes accessing your phone's apps just as easy as when it's out of its case. Yes, the unit is watertight, but Tigra's sound boost technology diverts the speaker and mic's sound to the front of the case, and you can still use the camera so on-the-fly selfies are completely attainable as well.

■ $59.99 // ibikeconsole.com

